INTEGRA TELECOM UPGRADES NETWORK CONNECTIVITY IN MONTANA

Upgraded Network Provides Four Times More Capacity for High-Speed Internet in the Bozeman-Billings Areas

Billings, Mont., June 17, 2010 – Integra Telecom Inc., an integrated communications provider for business, has increased its, voice and Internet network capacity by four times in the Billings-Bozeman, Mont., area. This network upgrade provides Montana business customers with improved high speed Internet and voice service quality and reliability.

“Integra Telecom continues to invest in Montana to provide our business customers with the most reliable voice, Internet and network capabilities in the market,” said Mark Geiselmayer, senior vice president for Integra Telecom of Montana. “Our Bozeman and Billings upgrades enable more businesses to be on the network with faster speeds and fewer outages.”

Integra’s backbone network upgrades in Montana provide more capacity and enhanced network routes to better meet the business customers’ increased demand for broadband and support Integra’s growth.

In addition, the network and service is supported by local customer service representatives and technicians, ensuring the highest level of service and support available.
